ADA Policy

If you, as a student, believe that you qualify as a person with a disability as defined in Chapter 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act of 2008 (ADAAA), you are strongly encouraged to register with the Accessibility Services Office located on the 2 nd Floor of the Diane M. Halle Library and online at the Center for Accessibility Services website. Faculty will then be notified directly from the Accessibility Services Office of any approved academic accommodations including extended time eligibility.

Academic Integrity Statement

Students are required to abide by the Academic Integrity Policy (<https://goo.gl/CBD2qJ>) of Endicott College.

I take proper academic conduct seriously, as it is unfair to other students when cheating goes unpunished. It is important that the work assessed in this course is your own. Any plagiarism or cheating will result in a failing grade in the course, and all violations will be reported to the Dean of the Gerrish School of Business and to the Associate Dean for Academic Success. Please consult with me prior to the start of week two if you are unclear about proper academic behavior and what constitutes misconduct, or if you do not know the difference between plagiarism and paraphrasing.

Paraphrasing vs Plagiarism

Put very simply, you are required to write in your own words for this course. All assignments should be written individually. This means that you should not be working with any other student, nor should you be copying assignments submitted in past semesters (by you or by any other student). If you are taking ideas from other places (e.g., from a journal article), you need to acknowledge the source (using proper APA style referencing) AND you need to write in your own words to cite that source. Just changing a few words here and there does not constitute proper paraphrasing.

Copying from a source and changing a few words so that it is not a direct copy and paste is still plagiarism. Proper paraphrasing involves reading something, thinking about it, interpreting it, synthesizing it with other things you have learned and then writing your own sentences without having to look back at the original source. Please do not be shy to approach your professor and say that you don't quite know how to do that. Your professor is more than happy to help you if you ask for help!

TurnItIn Statement

TurnItIn software will be used to check all written assignments submitted in this course. Please read the following statement regarding use of TurnItIn:

By taking this course, students agree that all required assignments may be subject to submission for "similarity review" to Turnitin.com, a tool intended to not just detect instances of plagiarism, but to prevent it as well. The tool is intended to help students identify passages that are unoriginal, incorrectly cited, or lacking appropriate source information. Submitted assignments may also be archived in the Turnitin.com database for the purpose of checking for possible future instances of plagiarism, additional similarity searches, and other educational purposes at the discretion of the instructor. For more information, please review the Privacy and Security guide at Turnitin.com.

Religious Observances

Students must notify the instructor within the first two weeks of the semester of the specific days or dates on which s/he requests relief for religious reasons.

Course Expectations

For each credit hour, students are expected to spend a minimum of two hours on work outside of class each week. For this three credit course that means a minimum of six hours each week.

Students must review the Academic Calendar published by the Registrar's Office online at: <http://tinyurl.com/hbmfywj>.

Class attendance is expected of all students up to and including the last day of scheduled Finals in the semester. Students must plan accordingly.

Topical Outline and Timeline

The table below shows a rough guide for the topics and activities to be covered in this course. Please note that you have something due almost EVERY week!

Any changes to this schedule will be announced via Canvas. Be sure to log into Canvas regularly (at least once per day) to check for announcements and to keep pace with the assignments that are due.

Subject to Change Statement

The syllabus sets forth my course objectives and my best estimate of what we will be able to cover during the semester. In order to tailor the course to the specific needs of the students, I might modify the syllabus during the semester; for this reason, it is possible that not all of the material will be covered and/or that additional material may be assigned.
